Proclamation.

BY THE GOVERNOR OF MICHIGAN.

To the school children of the State of Michigan:

It is my great privilege to call your attention to that great humanitarian organization the American Red Cross.

This organization furnishes relief to every victim of calamity or disaster, whether in times of peace or war, in every quarter of the globe.

It has now enlarged its scope and extended the privilege of membership through the newly formed Junior Red Cross to every school child in the country. This will give an outlet for the energies of all the young people in the schools of this state and enable them to share in the relief of the burdens of human suffering throughout the world.

Realizing the wonderful influence they have in directing their pupils' thoughts and activities I desire to enlist in this worthy cause all the school teachers of the state.

Therefore, I, Albert E. Sleeper, Governor of Michigan, hereby set aside the period from February 12 to February 22, inclusive, for the purpose of the Junior Red Cross membership campaign and I request all schools throughout the state to enroll in this organization.

Given under my hand at Lansing, Michigan, this 12th day of February, nineteen hundred and eighteen.

Albert E. Sleeper, Governor of Michigan.

Delicious Rye Bread.

A Knox county Ohio woman contributes this home recipe for making rye bread:

One half cake of yeast dissolved in half bowl of warm water thickened with white flour. Set in warm place to rise. At supper time cook two medium size potatoes. Mash. Add 4 cups warm water or potato water, one-half tablespoon salt, two tablespoons brown sugar. Next morning add two-thirds rye flour and one-third white flour. Stir as long as flour can be worked in. Turn on a well-floured moulding board, roll lightly, shape and place in deep pans. Set in warm place, cover well and let rise to twice normal size. Bake in moderate oven 45 minutes. The loaves will not round up like other bread but if directions are followed something delicious will be the result.

STATE'S FARM LABOR SURVEY IS LAUNCHED.

School Children Distribute Questionnaires—Authorities Wish to Learn How Much Help Farmers Must Have.

East Lansing, Mich.—How many farm hands will be needed by the farmers of Michigan during 1918? This is a question that school children throughout the state are helping Uncle Sam find an answer for by distributing questionnaires among farmers in their home communities. In a few districts the work is already well started, and in most it will not commence until the coming week. The job must be finished by March 1.

The work is each of the counties is under the general direction of the commissioners of schools, to whom the Michigan Agricultural college has supplied the necessary questionnaires. These questionnaires are sheets of paper upon which farmers are asked, among other things, to state the amount of help they will need at various times during the present year. School children will distribute these and take them up in the various districts. When the school teachers have collected all the questionnaires brought in by their pupils, they will turn them over to the commissioners, who will place them in the hands of the county agricultural agents in counties where these officials are employed, and the agents will forward to M. A. C. to be used by the federal farm labor commissioner. Where there are no agents, the questionnaires will be mailed by the commissioners direct to the director of extension of the college.

Michigan State Fair Physical Culture Body-Building Contest.

"One of the most persistent popular beliefs that the Michigan State Fair is year by year striving to overcome is that which treats the Fair as an annual exposition devoted exclusively to livestock and farm crops. The original state or county fair, it will be conceded, was an exposition of this sort, but the modern State Fair goes beyond the point where well-bred animals and farm crops are the sole objects of interest. In recent years our Michigan State Fair has established all sorts of competitive events between human beings, and the broad idea behind these events is to build up a better race of citizens—present and future. For several years we have had a Better Babies contest. Then for the young people, we have held all sorts of competitive events in which both mental and physical skill was required of the victors. In a word, we have been striving to make the Michigan State Fair a great annual exposition that would be a physical and mental uplifting force instead of a mere show place for the fattest steer or the biggest head of cabbage."

The foregoing is contained in a statement just issued by General Manager G. W. Dickinson of the Michigan State fair, relative to the third annual Physical Culture Body-Building contest to be held during the six months previous to the opening of the Fair next August. Continuing as to the details of the event, Mr. Dickinson said:

"The showing made by a vast number of our young men when called to the National army indicates that physical unfitness is more common among the citizens of this country than any one supposed. Although this is the third year of our Body-Building contest, I will confess that I only began to become enthusiastic over it when the reports began to be published last fall relative to the large number of physically deficient drafted men. I saw then that our Body-Building contest could be turned to practical use in a large way, provided, of course, that we could get our message across to the people who are really in need of it."

This year beautiful cups (sterling or bronze) will be awarded as first prizes to contestants who make the greatest physical improvement in themselves during the next six months. The prizes will be awarded on September 7 during the Fair held August 30 to September 8. The winners are not likely to be those who are in good physical condition when the contest opens, but it is more probable that the winners will be found among those of frail physique at the present time and who during the next six months go about the work of developing their bodies by systematic daily exercise, right eating, right breathing and in general, right living.

This year the persons entering the contest will be divided into three classes: those between 3 and 12 years, 12 to 21 years and 21 years and over. Members of both sexes are permitted to enter, in fact, we are if anything, more desirous of securing entries from the girls and women than we are from the men. The girls of today are the mothers of the next generation and I don't know of any way to make them better mothers than to provide an inducement for them to build up their physiques.

No entry fee is required for the Body-Building contest, but those who are planning to enter should make inquiry at once in regard to the various details of the contest and to have their entry recorded before March 7 at the office of the Michigan State Fair, 502 Bowles Building, Detroit, Michigan. Blanks will be furnished on application.

German Propaganda Nipped in The Bud.

How the American Red Cross foiled German propaganda in Italy and changed the attitude of the People of that country from hostility to friendliness for the United States is one of the most important and interesting achievements of this humanitarian agency.

The Red Cross, of course, does not include the foiling of enemy propaganda in its aims directly. What happened in Italy came about as a by-product of the regular Red Cross relief work. German and Austrian spies had spread reports through Italy, at the time of the retreat of the Italian army, that the United States was indifferent to the fate of Italy.

But when the Red Cross arrived and began feeding the hungry, ministering to the sick, housing the homeless, clothing the naked and otherwise relieving distress, the Italian people got an entirely new viewpoint and the German propaganda was nipped in the bud.

Now the people of Italy love the United States and henceforth it does not seem likely that German cunning can devise any lies and so sugar-coat them as to induce the Italian people to swallow them to the detriment of the United States.

The Red Cross in relieving suffering in Italy and other afflicted nations is building future peace among nations and creating for the United States a good will which will work out for the benefit of generations yet unborn.

GERMANY DEFYING WORLD OPINION SAYS PRESIDENT

Appears Before Congress And Emphasizes Friendly Attitude In Czernin Peace Offer
Of January 24

WHOLE STRENGTH IN WAR

Hertling Proposals Confusing Says President In Charge That Demands Of Reichstag Forgotten By Berlin Premier

Washington—Before a hastily summoned joint session of congress, President Wilson, on February 11, drove in place what many of his hearers regarded as the most powerful wedge yet employed to split the Austro-German alliance and to separate the people of Germany from the military masters who rule them.

Once more the president set in place the cornerstones upon which America demands peace of the world shall be rebuilt. The 14 particularized terms which he laid down in his address of January 8, he assembled this time under the four following principles:

"First, that each part of the final settlement must be based upon the essential justice of that particular case and upon such adjustments as are most likely to bring a settlement that will be permanent.

"Second, that peoples and provinces are not to be bartered about from sovereignty to sovereignty as if they were mere chattels and pawns in a game, even the great game, now forever discredited, of the balance of power; but that,

"Third, every territorial settlement involved in this war must be made in the interest and for the benefit of the populations concerned, and not as a part of any mere adjustment or compromise of claims amongst rival states; and,

"Fourth, that all well defined national aspirations shall be accorded the utmost satisfaction that can be afforded them without introducing new or perpetuating old elements of discord and antagonism that would be likely in time to break the peace of Europe and consequently of the world."

Fight On for Just Peace.

"Until such a peace can be secured," the president declared to an audience which on floor and in galleries, stood up and cheered, "we have no choice but to go on."

In face of the toll of the transport Lusitania and the announcement that Russia has definitely quit and that the Central powers, the president told a cheering audience that more American troops and always more would go on to France until a just peace was attained.

"We can never turn back," he declared, "from a course chosen upon principle. Our resources are in part mobilized now and we shall not pause until they are mobilized in their entirety. Our armies are rapidly going to the fighting front and will go more and more rapidly.

Whole Strength in War.

"Our whole strength will be put into this war of emancipation—emancipation from the threat and attempted mastery of selfish groups of autocratic rulers—whatever the difficulties and present partial delays. We are indomitable in our power of independent action and can in no circumstance consent to live in a world governed by intrigue and force.

"The tragic circumstance is," he declared, "that this one party in Germany is apparently willing and able to send millions of men to their death to prevent what all the world now sees to be just."

The reply of Count Czernin, the Austrian premier, to his speech of January 8, the president declared, had been "uttered in a very friendly tone." Czernin, he said, "seems to see the fundamental elements of peace with clear eyes and does not seek to obscure them."

Austria Sees American Aim. "Seeing and conceding as he does the essential principles involved and the necessity of candidly applying them, he naturally feels that Austria can respond to the purpose of peace as expressed by the United States with less embarrassment than could Germany. He probably would have gone much farther had it not been for the embarrassments of Austria's alliance and of her dependence upon Germany."

In the speech of Count von Hertling, the German chancellor, delivered January 24, the same day that Czernin spoke, the president declared, he could find no such basis of possible understanding with the United States. Von Hertling he described as "very vague and very confusing."

"His discussion and acceptance of our general principles lead him to no practical conclusions. He refuses to apply them to the substantive items which must constitute the body of any final settlement. He is jealous of international action and of international counsel. It (Hertling's reply) confirms, I am sorry to say, rather than removes, the unfortunate impression made by what we had learned of the conference at Brest-Litovsk."

World: Sit in Judgment. From this contrast between the speeches of the Austrian and German premiers, the president proceeded to hold up the striking contrast between the demand of the German chancellor that the world at large shall not concern itself with individual territorial adjustments at the close of the war, and the clear-sighted note of the reichstag resolutions of last July.

Declaring that "all the awakened nations of the world now sit in judgment on the issues of the conflict, the president referred to the fact the reichstag had itself "accepted the decisions of that court" in stipulating in its resolutions that "there shall be no annexations, no contributions, no punitive damages;" that "peoples are not to be handed about from one sovereignty to another by an international conference or an understanding between rivals and antagonists;" that "national aspirations must be respected," and "peoples may now be dominated and governed only by their consent."

The speech was put forward frankly as another step in that persistent propaganda of public discussion which President Wilson started at the very outset of America's entry into the conflict. Again it was his purpose to emphasize before the world in general and the enemy peoples in particular, that the enemies of the German military rulers are battling for the highest principles of liberty and freedom.

"Self-determination" is not a mere phrase," declared the president. "It is an imperative principle of action, which statesmen will henceforth ignore at their peril. We cannot have a general peace for the asking, or by mere arrangements of a peace conference. It cannot be pieced together out of individual understandings between powerful states. All parties to this war must join in the settlement of every issue anywhere involved in it."

At the very outset of his speech the president denied the intimation accredited to Count Czernin that the Austrian premier had been in communication with him privately before delivery of his speech or that the President Wilson had foreknowledge of what the Austrian would say.

The president did not bid for direct exchanges between Washington and Vienna. Rather did he leave the way open for Austria to take the path which Czernin's speech perceived.

Applause Is Frequent. The president was frequently interrupted by applause. Despite the shortness of the advance notice that the executive would speak, members of both branches were nearly all present for the joint session which met in the house chamber to hear him. By the time the president appeared, the galleries were packed, and crowds were clamoring at the doors in futile efforts to obtain admission.

It is understood the president's decision to deliver the address was made at his recent conference with Colonel S. M. House, who is back in Washington again, and with Secretary of State Lansing.

The entire cabinet was present on the floor and seated just below the rostrum from which the president spoke, was Earl Reading, the new British ambassador, who reached this country Saturday.

The French, Italian and Brazilian ambassadors, the Swiss, Dutch and Bulgarian ministers and the Argentine charge occupied seats in the diplomatic gallery.

BEET GROWERS WILL GET $10 Agreement Reached With Sugar Manufacturers at State Gathering.

Bay City—"The beet growers of Michigan will get $10 a ton flat for their beets this year," announced State Food Administrator Prescott, at the close of a meeting of sugar manufacturers held here on February 11.

Mr. Prescott said that every factory in the state was represented at the conference and that the manufacturers gave in to the demands of the farmers as a matter of patriotism. Thus ends a long-drawn-out fight that has spread to all parts of the state where sugar beets are grown.

The farmers maintained that when sugar sold for four and four and a half cents a pound they got but $4 to $4.50 for their beets. As the price is now double what it was then they demanded double for their beets. The attractiveness of wheat at $2 a bushel and the high price of other products made the farmer independent and hardly any contracts could be secured at a lower price.

War Closes Gold Cure Institute. Northville—The famous Yarnall Gold cure, after a flourishing career for 25 years, has been closed by order of the trustee of the estate, Edward Lapham, cashier of the Lapham bank. Lack of patients, due to war conditions, and the gradual extension of the prohibition movement, are given as the reason.

Smallpox Hits Hillsdale. Hillsdale—All schools, the theatre and several clubs have been closed because of the smallpox epidemic.

on Tyne. In the same yard where the Mauretania was constructed.

The ship is 530 feet long, 65 beam and had accommodations for 550 passengers in the cabin and 2,000 steerage.

The Aurania made her first voyage to this port in April, 1917. She had not figured in the records of this port since that time.

There were 13 or 14 passengers aboard the Aurania when she was struck, it was stated at the office of the Cunard line.

Another Cunarder Torpedoed. New York—"The Cunard liner Aurania, 13,400 tons, was torpedoed by a German submarine last week while bound for the United States, it was learned from officials of the Cunard line.

Although badly damaged by the explosion, the ship was not sunk.

The Aurania is a sister ship of the Cunard liner Andania, sunk by a submarine last month.

She was built in 1915 at Newcastle.

U. S. PERFECTS SHIP THAT CAN NOT SINK

THOUSANDS OF AIRTIGHT AND WATER-TIGHT CELLS WILL KEEP VESSEL AFLOAT.

SAILS FOR EUROPE THIS WEEK

Claimed That Even With Great Holes Torn in Sides, Ship Would Remain On Surface.

Washington—"The first non-sinkable seagoing ship, the Lucia, achievement of American genius, will load this week and leave for Europe.

She will be without convoy. She goes as an open challenge to German submarines to prove that she is invulnerable. No test has been made or will be made of the efficacy of her multiplicity of airtight and water-tight cells.

William F. Donnelly, inventor of the non-sinkable construction of the Lucia, a marine engineer of New York, will have charge of loading of the vessel.

Although the Lucia is fitted with 12,000 of the water and air-tight cells, permanently attached to frames and deck beams and other available spaces of the deck, about 15 to 20 per cent of the cargo space must be packed with additional numbers of these buoyant boxes.

Mathematical calculations from small scale experiments are considered sufficient proof that even with a hole 30 feet long blown in her side she would remain safely afloat, supported by the honeycomb of cells.

Each cell is independent of any other for its supporting quality and the great number of them, in addition to the ordinary safety device of water-tight doors and other water-tight partitions on every sea-going vessel give so great a degree of buoyancy that two or three torpedoes would not be likely to water havoc enough to sink such a ship.

A vessel, so smashed and torn by torpedoes, with gaping holes below the water line could remain on the surface indefinitely, simply waterlogged with no danger to her crew.

Unless unusually rent open, she could proceed to a port, however, slowly. In any event neither lives or cargo would be likely to be lost, for supporting vessels either could tow her to port or sallyage at the spot the undamaged part of the cargo.

LOANS GIVEN WAR FACTORIES

Over $150,000,000 Advanced to Small Shops By War Credits Board.

Washington—Approximately $150,000,000 has been advanced to contractors on war work by the war credits board, the war department announced Monday. This includes money for clothing, food, equipment, small ammunition and similar production.

The advances, made under authority of congress, have stimulated production of munitions and other materials to their highest possible degree. In some cases they have prevented the closing down of plants because of inability of contractors to get money to meet the payrolls. The law permits advances not exceeding 30 per cent of the contract price for supplies, such advances to be amply secured.

The board announces that "when a concern that has a contract with the war department for supplies, has shown that it needs financial assistance and has been able to comply with the act by giving adequate security, the board has approved an advance payment and the money has been received by the contractor without delay."

Deserters Too Anxious for War. Grand Rapids—Too great a disposition to see actual fighting will keep Private Elmer H. Hogan out of the war. He enlisted in the United States army and was sent to Garden City. His division did not move as soon as Hogan thought it should, so he deserted and re-enlisted in the Canadian forces. He was arrested while visiting his parents here and sentenced to 1 1/2 years at Leavenworth, the term being made light because of his youth and fighting zeal.

"Lieutenant" Wanted for Forgery. Detroit—Federal authorities have joined the search for Lieut. G. S. Avery, U. S. A., who is wanted by Detroit police to answer a charge of forgery made by the Hotel Pontchartrain. Some question exists whether Avery, who is 22 years old, is entitled to his uniform. Avery suddenly disappeared from the Hotel Pontchartrain, leaving an unpaid board bill and a check for $100 drawn upon the Boatman's bank, St. Louis. The bank says the lieutenant has no account there.

Dropped Bomb Down Chimney. Lansing—Explosives dropped down the chimney of Millstein Brothers' store and set off with a time fuse caused $3,000 damage. Enforcement of restrictions as to distribution of food stuffs and the anger of some customer at failure to get desired articles is the only theory which the owners of the store have evolved to account for the explosion. Tracks in the snow over a shed roof at the rear of the store and up the store roof to the chimney are the only clues.

Pie Eaters Face Short Rations. Detroit—Scarcity of sugar and flour forms a new element threatening Detroit's pastry lovers with pieless days. A few weeks ago the coal famine nearly forced the city's pie eaters to go without their favorite dessert as well as without heat. Henry J. Boerth, president of a pie company, which turns out 14,000 to 15,000 pies per day, stated that his factory is running on a day-to-day supply of sugar and that wheat flour was increasingly hard to get.

Auto Truck Line Planned To Operate Between Detroit, Chicago, Cincinnati and Cleveland.

Toledo—A company, being formed in Toledo, to be known as the National Motor Transport company, expects to have four inter-city truck lines in operation within 60 days. Toledo will be the headquarters for the lines, which will cross here, connecting Detroit and Cincinnati and Chicago and Cleveland.

Complete Recovery However Predicted By Physicians.

New York—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt's condition showed such marked improvement the first of the week, that another operation will not be necessary, according to his physician.

The colonel will probably suffer intensely for several days, but his complete recovery is looked for by his physicians. The inflammation of his inner ear has subsided.

The essential thing necessary now is absolute quiet. Every precaution is being taken to keep the slightest noise from reaching his room. No one is allowed to see him except his immediate family.

GAINS MANY NEW MEMBERS

Red Cross Adds Approximately 17,500, 000 in the Recent Big Drive.

Washington, D. C.—Figures now available on the Red Cross Christmas membership drive show a total enrollment of 23,475,000, or 22 per cent of the population of the United States.

Of this total the Red Cross had about 8,000,000 members before the Christmas drive started, so that the gain from the drive was approximately 15,500,000 new members. The central division, of which Chicago is the headquarters, leads the other twelve divisions of the country in the number of new members enrolled Christmas week.

By divisions, the gains were as follows: Atlantic, 3,000,000; Central, 3,000,000; Gulf, 3,000,000; Lake, 3,000,000; Mountain, 2,700,000; New England, 670,000; Northern, 658,000; Northwestern, 693,000; Pacific, 327,000; Pennsylvania, 1,600,000; Potomac, 250,000; Southern, 370,000; Southwestern, 3,250,000.

From the fourteenth division comprising all of the territorial insular and foreign possessions of the United States the new members added numbered 48,000.

Unprecedentedly unfavorable weather prevailed during the drive so that the showing is considered exceptionally good. Final figures are not expected to change the foregoing estimates to any considerable extent.

One of the chief benefits anticipated from the enlarged membership is the addition of thousands of active workers to Red Cross chapters where supplies are being prepared for our army and navy and the military forces and civilian populations of the allies.

GERMANS AMBUSH U. S. PATROL

One Wounded Man Returns, Others Killed or Captured.

With the American Army in France—Five American soldiers are believed to have been killed, four are missing and one was wounded, when an American patrol was ambushed in No Man's Land Saturday night by a superior force of Germans.

The spot where the encounter occurred is an isolated one and reports concerning the casualties inflicted by both sides are meager. Only one American is known to have escaped the trap of the Germans which was laid in front of our wires. The one survivor, who crawled back to the American lines with a bullet in his chest, was unable to talk.

Rochester—The local schools have opened again as the result of a snowed trade by Dr. B. C. H. Spencer, village president, with the Grand Trunk railroad. Under the agreement the railroad is allowed to take on water from the local tank in exchange for 40 tons of bituminous coal. The right to take on water here was recently denied the railroad when the supply threatened to become exhausted.

Lansing—Another telephone company wants an increase in rates. In its petition filed with the Michigan railroad commission, it carefully uses the words "after rates." Camp Custer, Battle Creek—Military authorities are waging an aggressive campaign to exterminate a band of Battle Creek bootleggers, who are selling to Custer soldiers at exorbitant prices, a vile concoction labeled "whiskey," and which has the effect of making bootleggers temporarily insane. This is the first step in the municipal sugar bush campaign, being waged by the city. A local concern will boil the sap and the sugar will be sold to the Charlotte people at cost. Alderman Wilson, acting as head of the movement, says it will result in 2,000 pounds of sugar. Street Commissioner Warren Lohr, an old-time sugar maker, will top the maples.

Detroit—The Michigan State Fair will again conduct a physical culture building contest this year. This competition is to last over a period of six months, starting March 7 and ending on September 7. Detroit—To satisfy two writs of execution for $28.30 and $15.35 which they said the D. U. R. refused to pay, Constables Andrew Phillips and Oscar Naumann seized a Woodward-Deport car at the Michigan Central depot and for 90 minutes shunted it about the tracks in that vicinity in such fashion as would most effectively block traffic in hopes of persuading the company to pay. GRAYLING, THURSDAY, FEB. 14

Why He Enlisted.

"How'd you happen to go? You aren't draft age?"

The above question was put up to a khaki-clad youngster on a railroad train the other day.

"No," he replied. "I didn't have to go and I can't say I really want to. I ain't much on this killing business. But by George, the more I thought about it, the more I didn't like to spend my whole life explaining why I didn't go."

That fellow came very near expressing the attitude of both the volunteers and the drafted men, both of whom wouldn't be so greatly pleased if they were relieved on the ground of physical defects.

There is a great satisfaction to an active fellow in doing the things the bunch are doing. A boy who went to the war pictures the other day said that just looking at them made him want to be there. He hated to be missing all the life of it, and was sorry to be digging away at books in a school with all this thrill and excitement going on.

No live boy likes to have been at home and abed the night a fire broke out and burned a lot of buildings. He looks pretty sheepish next morning when he has to come down and confess he slept through it all.

So the men who run to this greatest of all fires will have a common experience binding them together. There will be no friendships like those of trench comrades. They will be in a class by themselves, a kind of American aristocracy, and one not based on money or birth but on service. Many men are staying at home who wish the reasons that keep them did not exist. They hate to be outside this greatest of all experiences. As for the slackers, they will always be like the boy that sleep over the big fire.

Some of these men who think the boys should march direct for the trenches without further delay are the ones who slide down a side street when they see a Red Cross or Y. M. C. A. solicitor come along.

It is Time for a Change.

A statement issued last week by the American Defense Society, of which Colonel Roosevelt is an official, reads in part as follows:

"During the last nine months loyal Americans have refrained from criticizing, realizing the great task of converting a peaceful nation into a warlike one, and being more than willing to help and not criticize. Now the time has arrived to speak out and urge upon the best brains and experience in the country to aid him in his task.

"A Cabinet of well-meaning mediocre gentlemen who can handle the routine duties of peace time cannot in fairness be expected to administer the enlarged Departments which have to be created to carry on the war with Germany. Every warring country in Europe has seen the necessity of strengthening its Cabinet, and America will be no exception. The time to begin is now. All political and personal considerations must be put aside in this crisis in national life. President Wilson should invite the strongest men in the country to sit in his Cabinet and assist him in the conduct of the war, regardless of party."

"Many of the mistakes and failures have been due to incompetence, if not disloyalty, below the Cabinet, but a stream can not rise higher than its source, and the only effective way to get competent subordinates is to have competent heads. Too many boards. Too much talking. Too little action. Individual responsibility is an essential. Modern war is largely industrial, the problems so intricate, that men from other fields of endeavor can not acquire necessary knowledge in a short time. For this reason a coalman should be in charge of the coal problem, a railroadman in charge of the railroad problem, a clothing-man in charge of the clothing problem. Let us cut out the men, however devoted and however intelligent, who might in time learn the technique of the various government bureaus, but who now lack the requisite knowledge and experience. It is time for a change."

Grayling was defeated on Bay City's home floor by one point in the first encounter with this aggregation. Come out and see if the Northern Michigan champs can turn the table this time.

Come out and see Casey work against the fast Moultrap; Roeser against Remus, capt.; Chamberlin against Wisniewski; Meistrup against Crawford; Thompson against Foss; Papendick against Young.

There will be a preliminary game between the Boy Scouts and the Junior high which will be another snappy game.

Grayling Quintette Defeats Traverse City.

Grayling Basket ball team beat Traverse City here last Friday night by a score of 15 to 11.

The game started with a rush, Chamberlin making the first basket, assisted by some nice passing from Thompson and Case. From then on the game was fast and a little rough, Meistrup making a field goal on a neat pass from Thompson and making 3 free throws out of 5 chances.

Thompson, Case and Roeser held the Traverse team down to 2 field goals in this half.

Meistrup made three personal fouls. Thompson made three personal fouls.

Case made three personal fouls. Tyler made the 2 field goals for Traverse and made one free throw out of three chances.

Abbott made one personal foul. Round made three personal fouls. Bently made two personal fouls. Cheovenka made one personal foul.

The second half was fast and each team showing up a little better on team work.

Meistrup made two field goals and two free throws out of three chances. Thompson made one field goal.

Thompson, Case and Roeser held the Traverse team down to two field goals in this half.

Chamberlin and Case each made one personal foul. Abbott and Bently each made one field goal for Traverse.

Tyler made two free throws out of two chances. Tyler, Abbott and Cheovenka each made one personal foul.

The score at the end of the 1st half Grayling—7; Traverse City—5. 2nd half Grayling—8; Traverse City—6. Final Grayling—15; Traverse City—11.

Grayling made five field goals and five free throws out of eight chances. Traverse City made four field goals and three free throws out of five chances.

The game was played in quarters of ten minutes and one minute between and five minutes between the halves. Souze's Thumprer band, consisting of—Benton—Jorgenson, solo—cornet; Floyd McLean, trombone; Albert Borchers, baritone; Oliver Cody, alto; Professor Sales, bass drum; Marshall Holiday, snare drum; Jesse Sales, tuba; Leo Schram, saxophone; Guy Peterson, bass major; Haratio McStager, physical director, rendered a few selections. The were attired in the regular costumes of world-famous troupers.

This was an unexpected feature, but none the less enjoyable and hope to see them present at the future games.

The Grayling Juniors defeated the Frederic Juniors in a lively tussel. The score was 9 to 20. This game was not the least attraction presented that night. Besides much snappy playing there were many amusing incidents on both sides.

"Here are the Kaiser's eyes taken from the head of your friend. Private. With Infantry." The young lady is now in the insane (violent) asylum. THE EXTREMELY CAREFUL.

WHY WE MUST SAVE BEEF, PORK AND MUTTON

Because of the lack of fodder and the increased need of meat to feed the soldiers and war workers. France, Great Britain, Italy and Belgium have on hand today 33,000,000 less head of stock than they had before the war. Their herds are still decreasing in spite of the fact that we are now sending them three times as much meat as we did before the war. We must send them more meat this year than ever before.

Wheatless Monday and Wheatless Wednesday—Means that wheat flour should not be used in preparing food to be served on these days. The following substitutes can be used to good advantage: Cornmeal, rolled oats, corn, barley and buckwheat flours. "Victory" bread and pastries may be served in public eating places on these days.

WHY WE MUST SAVE WHEAT

France, Great Britain, Italy and Belgium must now import sixty per cent of their breadstuffs instead of the forty per cent they imported before the war.

America must supply the greater part of this need. To send them the least they can live on we must increase our export surplus of wheat from 88,000,000 bushels to 220,000,000 bushels.

We can not send them corn because they have not enough mills to grind it. We can not send them corn meal because it spoils in shipping. The oats, rye, barley, etc., that we send will not support them unless mixed with wheat. WE MUST SEND THEM MORE WHEAT, and to do this WE MUST EAT LESS WHEAT BREAD.

Porkless Saturday—Means that no pork in any form is to be served on this day.

WHY WE MUST SAVE SUGAR

Before the war France, Italy and Belgium raised all their own sugar. Great Britain bought sugar from Germany.

Now France, Italy and Belgium can not raise much sugar because their men are fighting and Great Britain can not buy sugar where she used to buy it.

All must now get sugar where we get it, and there is not enough to go around unless we save.

BENEFIT PLAY FOR RED CROSS.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT FEB. 21.

The Beautiful Story of Damon and Pythias Will be Presented by Bay City Talent.

There has never been a time in the history of America when there were such opportunities to do things patriotic. And it seems that the acts of patriotism supersede the opportunities. The American Red Cross, with its wonderful work, affords the greatest privilege for real patriotic giving. The Crawford county chapter is doing great work. There is a noble response to the call for workers, and a visit any afternoon to the Red Cross rooms over the Salling Hanson company store will prove that our ladies are not slackers. Yesterday we found 25 or more ladies were faithfully at work; and this is about an average of the crowds there every afternoon. At present the women are making surgical dressings.

All material used must be paid for by the people of this community, so can you be surprised that the Chapter needs money? They need hundreds of dollars with which to purchase materials, such as yarns, fabrics, etc., thus we may readily see why money is needed. (Not one cent is paid out to officers, instructors, etc.)

The cause is great and it is for us people to give in every way possible to the Red Cross. This idea prompted the members of Portage Lodge Knights of Pythias to arrange for a benefit entertainment to be given at Temple theatre, Thursday night, Feb. 21, the gross proceeds to be given to the Red Cross of Crawford county.

What would be more fitting for the K. of P. lodge than to present the play of Damon and Pythias, the story of which is the foundation of that order. This is the most beautiful story of friendship known to mankind. Throughout the play it is thrilling and holds the audience in breathless anticipation.

The dramatic team of Othello lodge of Bay City will present the play. This is one of the strongest teams in the United States doing this work, and they are called out almost every week to put on this performance. In every respect the performance will be equal to that of professional players.

It was the main idea of the local Pythians to give the people something for their money as well as make money for the Red Cross. All the proceeds will be given to the Red Cross, and all expenses of the entertainment will be paid for out of the lodge treasury. This will be held at Temple theatre, Thursday Feb. 21; Admission 50 cents. The committee in charge have arranged to give a dancing party after the play and here too all the money received will be given to the Red Cross. Admission to the dance, 50 cents extra; ladies 25 cents. Buy a ticket and then come. They want you there.

Just to make up good measure the members of Portage lodge will sell on the night of the play and party, a fine hand knitted bedspread, valued at $200.00, and add the proceeds to the Red Cross funds. This bedspread was made by Grandma Maria Oaks, who worked on it, off and on, for about five years. It is a remarkably beautiful article and one that would be prized by any lady in the land. The spread will be on exhibition at the Grayling Mercantile company store until the night of the entertainment.

WAYS WITH GELATINE.

Most cooks labor under the mistaken idea that gelatine is only used as a light dessert, however there are countless ways of serving it. The following are a few:

Meat Loaf.—Soak one package of gelatine in a cupful of cold water five minutes, add the juices of a lemon, add an onion grated, a stalk of celery chopped, to a pint of rich stock, chicken or other broth, strain and pour in the gelatine after the flavor has been cooked out of the vegetables. Put into a mold and when beginning to set add a pint of cooked meat finely chopped. When firm, slice and serve on a platter garnished with cress or parsley.

Soak a teaspoonful of gelatine in a small quantity of vinegar or lemon juice and add to a mayonnaise dressing to thicken it.

Lemon Jelly.—Made from lemon juice, water and gelatine, cut in cubes makes a most delicate garnish for pressed chicken.

Grape Sherbet.—Soak half an envelope of gelatine in half a cupful of cold water five minutes. Make a syrup by boiling one cupful of sugar in one and a half cups of boiling water ten minutes then add the soaked gelatine. Cool slightly and add a pint of lemon juice and a third of a cupful of orange juice. Freeze. Serve in sherbet glasses.

Gelatine to be good should be absolutely tasteless and uniform in strength. A jelly should be just stiff enough to hold its shape when turned out of the mold, yet soft enough to quiver with the movement of the dish.

Prune Jelly.—Wash a half pound of prunes, cover with water and soak several hours; then put them water and all into a saucepan with the grated rind of half a lemon an inch stick of cinnamon, a fourth of a cupful of sugar. Cook until tender, strain off the liquid and rub the prunes through a sieve. Crack a few of the stones, blanch the kernels and add them to the pulp. Add the gelatine, pulp and fruit juices and stir occasionally until nearly cold. Decorate with shredded almonds and set away until firm.

The union of lakes, the union of lands,
The union of states none can sever.
The union of hearts, the union of hands
And the flag of our Union forever!

PALATABLE DISHES.

The coarser stalks of celery may be used for cooked celery, making a most wholesome dish for a supper or luncheon dish. Boil three cups of cut-up celery in a little salted water until tender, allowing it to steam nearly dry. Put it into a buttered baking dish in layers with a cupful and a half of rich white sauce, alternating until all is used. Cover with buttered crumbs and grated cheese, bake until the crumbs are brown.

Rich Oyster Stew.—Rub the inside of the stew pan with a cut clove of garlic and a slice of onion, do not allow a shred of either to remain. Melt three tablespoons of butter, add one and a half tablespoons of flour, stir and cook until smooth, then add one and a half cups of thick cream, and one and three-fourths pint of milk. When it is boiling hot add the oysters which have been parboiled three minutes, boil up and serve at once with seasoning of salt and pepper to taste.

Stewed Beans With Vegetables.—Soak a cupful of beans over night and in the morning add a pinch of soda and seal them. Simmer for three hours in salted water. Add a fourth of a pound of sliced salt pork and boil for an hour longer. Then add two cups of sliced potatoes, two sliced onions, one cupful each of sliced carrots and turnips. Cook until the vegetables are tender then add a half cupful of barley, which has been soaked and cooked until soft. Season to taste with salt and pepper and in the seasoning add a cupful of fresh corn cut from the cob.

Old-Fashioned Welsh Rarebit.—Slice a half pound of bacon and fry on one side, then turn them and lay on a slice of cheese to cover the bacon well. Sprinkle with paprika, cover the frying pan and cook away until the turned side of the bacon is done. The cheese will then be melted and crisp at the edges. Serve with buttered toast at once.

Add a handful of dates, raisins and with a few nuts to chopnuts, the celery with French dressing, which makes a most delightful salad.

A most tasty way of serving boiled cabbage was discovered by adding a little of the vinegar in which dill pickles had been put up. Butter, salt and pepper were added, but the vinegar gave a new and most appetizing flavor.

City of Clubs. London has the name of the world's greatest club city, but as a matter of fact, in this respect it is poor second to Havana, Cuba. The clubs of Havana are larger, more numerous and more powerful than the clubs of any other city in the world. Everybody in Havana belongs to a club. There are over 45,000 members. Out of a population of 350,000, it is estimated that the total club membership exceeds 125,000. No other city can approach this proportion.

Household Waste as Fertilizer. Chemical analyses of the ash of household wastes, made at the Connecticut agricultural experiment station, show that there is marked fertilizing value in such common refuse as banana skins, orange skins, grapefruit skins, lemon skins, apple peels, cantaloupe rinds, potato peelings, pea pods, bean strings and stems, tea leaves, coffee grounds, egg shells, bones, peanut shells, tobacco, fruit stones, etc. These are recommended for fertilizing home gardens.

The talent of success is nothing more than doing what you can well, and doing whatever you do, without thought of fame.

SEASONABLE PUDDINGS.

The following group of puddings may prove helpful or suggestive:

California Pudding.—Cream a half cupful of butter substitute, with one cupful of brown sugar. Add one cupful each of ground raw potato, carrot and apple; then a cupful of flour mixed with a teaspoonful of cinnamon, a half teaspoonful of cloves and a teaspoonful of soda mixed with a teaspoonful of citric acid and a cupful of raisins with flour, using two tablespoons and mixing it with the rest. Pour into a mold and steam three hours. Serve with a hard sauce. A teaspoonful of baking powder sifted over the fruit just before it is added to the batter will keep it from sinking to the bottom of the mold. Flour should be used as usual, however.

Apple Cracker Pudding.—Crumble six large milk-crackers into a pudding dish; pour over these enough cold water to soak them until soft. Pare three medium-sized apples, cut in halves, remove the core and put them on to stew with a little water for ten minutes. Pour a pint of milk over the soaked crackers and two beaten eggs, stir in the apples and a half cupful of sugar. Flavor with a teaspoonful of lemon extract and a grating of nutmeg over the top of the pudding. Put a teaspoonful of butter in small bits over the top and bake in a slow oven until firm and brown. Serve hot.

Indian Pudding.—Scald a pint of milk and add to it gradually a half cupful of Indian meal, a half cupful of molasses, a teaspoonful of cinnamon and a cupful of chopped suet. Cook ten minutes, cool and add three eggs beaten light. Turn into a greased mold and boil five minutes. Serve with hard sauce. This pudding may be baked. If a light coating of flour is sifted over the top a delicious brown crust will be formed in baking. A half cupful of raisins will be a great addition to this pudding.

Attend the end, and never stand in doubt.
Nothing's so hard but search will find it out.
—Herriot.

ECONOMICAL DISHES.

The tough ends of steak or bits of left-over may be used most acceptably in the following:

Chili Con Carne.—Cut up the left-over steak and put a layer of the meat in a casserole, sprinkle with chopped onion, a few spoonfuls of kidney beans and a layer of canned tomatoes, seasoning each layer with salt and chili pepper. Repeat until the casserole is filled, then turn in the liquid part of the tomatoes thickened with a little flour and butter, cover and bake an hour, then uncover and bake 20 minutes.

Mock Terrapin.—Parboil a pound of beef-liver, cut in slices for five minutes, then drain and brown in bacon fat. Chop in small pieces put back into the pan and add a quarter of a teaspoonful of dry mustard, salt and pepper to taste, a few drops of Worcestershire sauce and boiling water if needed. Boil up, thicken with flour blended with butter, using a tablespoonful of each. Add a hard-boiled egg, finely chopped, and a few drops of lemon juice.

Canned Corn On Toast.—To each cupful of corn allow a teaspoonful of chopped onion fried in a tablespoonful of butter, do not brown; add the corn, a half cupful of milk, salt and pepper to taste. Cook slowly for five minutes. Meanwhile toast a slice of bread for each person and fry two slices of bacon for each. Pour the prepared corn over the toast from which the crusts have been removed. Serve with the bacon slices over the top.

Yorkshire Corn Pudding.—Put into a mixing bowl a cupful of minced corn, three-fourths of a cupful of milk, add two well-beaten eggs yolk. Into another bowl stir a cupful of flour with two spoonfuls of baking powder and a half teaspoonful of salt, mix together the flour and corn, add the well-beaten whites of two eggs. Put into well-greased muffin rings and put into each a teaspoonful of the juice from the roast, fill half full with the batter and bake in a moderate oven. Serve around the meat with meat gravy.

What Can We Do?

Patterns of refugee garments for women are now ready and are known as official American Red Cross patterns, numbering from 151 to 158 inclusive. Making these garments is a work that every woman ought to do with a sense of gratitude that she is thus able to contribute something to the health and spiritual comfort of the women who have been caught in the maelstrom of war. Their case is pitiful. They have been driven from their homes and are dependent upon charity for the bare necessities of life.

It is inspiring to know that the women are responding to calls for needed garments and comforts for fighting men with untiring enthusiasm.

Knitting has become the habit with many, and they are providing the socks, sweaters, wristlets, ear-warmers and helmets that the men use in great numbers. Some of them devote their time to making just one sort of garment. A lady of Coldwater, Mich., who is eighty-two years old, is sending us beautiful socks which she knits at the rate of one a day. This is a fine contribution to Red Cross work.

Another old lady makes only comfort kits, and is now well on toward the three-hundredth kit. But most women really like to vary the work they do; those who knit undertaking sweaters, wristlets, socks, etc., in turn, and resting up from knitting with work on surgical dressings, hospital linen or refugee garments by way of variety.

Mrs. Charles G. Kline, superintendent of the department of knitting and comforts for fighting men, in the Central division, which includes the states of Michigan, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Illinois and Iowa, reports that 10,723 articles were the remarkable record of one day's inspection and packing of knitted goods from the state of Illinois alone, exclusive of the Chicago chapter, on January 17th.

Mrs. John Glass, superintendent of the department of surgical dressings, has received a letter from the associate director of bureau of development, national headquarters, in regard to the remarkable output of the drive for surgical dressings:

"The response to our appeal from all over the country has been very inspiring, and the Central division has had no small part in enabling us to take care of the special request we received from France. I hope that you will express to all those concerned our great appreciation of the work they have done."

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

CRICKET BIRD.

"This way, this way, follow me," said little Mr. Cricket Bird.

All the cricket birds hopped along and said: "Where are we going, Mr. Cricket Bird?"

"We are going to call on the fairies," he said. "We are going to ask them if they don't sometimes want us to give the music for their balls. And we'd like to form a band."

The cricket birds were delighted with Mr. Cricket Bird's suggestion and hopped along very happily and cheerily.

They reached Fairyland at last and Mr. Cricket Bird hopped on the Fairy Queen's right wing and whispered in her ear: "I have a favor to ask, most beautiful Queen."

"Goodness, gracious, mercy me," said the Fairy Queen. "Did I hear a whisper in my ear?"

"You couldn't have," said the rest of the fairies. "For we haven't heard a sound, nor seen a soul this afternoon."

But, just then all the other little cricket birds hopped on the wings of the different fairies and every one said: "I've a favor to ask."

"Oh," called the fairies, "you did hear a whisper, Fairy Queen." And each one told her whisper. The same whisper they had all heard, and it seemed as if each fairy had heard it close to her ear.

"Goodness, gracious, mercy me," said the Fairy Queen.

"What could it have been?" the Fairy Queen asked. And then Mr. Cricket Bird followed by all the little cricket birds, hopped down from the wings of the fairies where they had been quite hidden, and began to sing in their pleasant way a very pretty song.

"Oh!" exclaimed all the fairies. "Do look!"

Of course each one was looking! No one could think of anything else.

"You sing like crickets," said the Fairy Queen. "Who are you, little birds? We are so glad you've come to see us. Pray tell us who you are and from where you have come?"

"We will be proud to tell you," said Mr. Cricket Bird. "And oh, how wise you are, beautiful Queen."

The Fairy Queen smiled and all the fairies jingled the little bells they had been playing with. "You are a wise creature to say so," said the fairies.

"But you have just said what we were."

"How have I?" asked the Fairy Queen, looking very much puzzled.

"You must have guessed I said something. I called you little birds, but I said 'you sing like crickets.'"

"And that's just right," said the cricket bird delightedly. "We have a fine name. But we are just what you've said."

"But I didn't exactly say anything," said the Fairy Queen, looking more and more puzzled. "I said you were like two kinds of little creatures—one kind from your looks and the other from your voices."

"And we are," said the cricket bird. "Our family name is Cricket Bird. We are also called Grasshopper Warblers."

"What nice names," shouted the fairies.

The crickets hopped and jumped with glee, and Mr. Cricket Bird continued talking. "We are called the Cricket Bird family because we can sing almost exactly like crickets can. And yet the sounds we make are so like insects and we hop so beautifully that they have called us Grasshopper Warblers too. So we are called by both names."

"And you've come to see us," said the Fairy Queen. "Won't you sing us a tune?"

So all the cricket birds sang and the fairies thought their voices sounded just like crickets.

"We wanted to ask the great favor of furnishing the music for some of your balls," said Mr. Cricket Bird. "We would be so much honored. As we don't feel quite so fine as birds with more beautiful voices it would make us doubly proud."

"We'd be delighted to have the Cricket Band," said the Fairy Queen, "and just to show you how much we like your music, will you come tomorrow evening when we are going to give a dance for the Twilight Fairies?"

"And all the cricket birds proudly promised to come, while Mr. Cricket Bird said he would lead the band!"

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

CRICKET BIRD.

"This way, this way, follow me," said little Mr. Cricket Bird.

All the cricket birds hopped along and said: "Where are we going, Mr. Cricket Bird?"

"We are going to call on the fairies," he said. "We are going to ask them if they don't sometimes want us to give the music for their balls. And we'd like to form a band."

The cricket birds were delighted with Mr. Cricket Bird's suggestion and hopped along very happily and cheerily.

They reached Fairyland at last and Mr. Cricket Bird hopped on the Fairy Queen's right wing and whispered in her ear: "I have a favor to ask, most beautiful Queen."

"Goodness, gracious, mercy me," said the Fairy Queen. "Did I hear a whisper in my ear?"

"You couldn't have," said the rest of the fairies. "For we haven't heard a sound, nor seen a soul this afternoon."

But, just then all the other little cricket birds hopped on the wings of the different fairies and every one said: "I've a favor to ask."

MANY FACTORS IN PLANNING HOUSE

Sense of Proportion Necessary If Complete, Structure Is to Please Eye.

AMATEUR BETRAYS HIMSELF

Generally Shows Lack of Knowledge of Fundamentals of Construction That Is Possessed by the Architect.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 187 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose three-cent stamp for reply.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.
We must give the Pacific coast credit for much of the virility of modern home architecture in America. Ideas originally carried out in light summer cottages, construction out West have been adapted by architects who have specialized along this line to the several needs of our Northern and Eastern climates; and a modified type of bungalow has resulted, that is 100 per cent O. K.

It is really remarkable, what a difference there is between amateur-planned houses and those designed by experienced architects. I do not deny that a good many very artistic homes have been planned by the owner, or Corneels and copings of uniform pattern may be used to make all parts of the building appear as parts of the whole. Wall bands frequently divide disproportionate walls into proportionate sections. Experts occasionally carry out imitation schemes, representations, for instance, of flowing water-plants, trees and men. This such embellishments would look ridiculous on any simple building which our layman friends might design. In any case, not more than one kind would be used. Never add an ornament because "that place looks bare."

Utility is less a matter of art. But the architect's experience enables him to provide for the maximum of convenience with a minimum of expense. He knows how much sunlight can get through a window of given size in a given position. He knows how to place the heating and plumbing apparatuses where they are least apt to give trouble and will serve best.

The architect's familiarity with the cost and nature of materials, enable him to tell his client how elaborate a structure can be built with a given amount of money, and how best that amount can be expended. The architect who starts a client building a $15,000 structure with only $10,000 is not under ordinary circumstances, worthy of his calling. I say "ordinary" because I have seen "bearing" war prices have fooled the best of us.

If, with all the multiplicity of circumstances to be taken into account, the layman can on paper lay out a building which, when completed, will satisfy all the requirements of proportion, simplicity, unity, utility and economy, he certainly does not need the services of an architect. He is then an architect himself.

Surely it is worth while to design every detail correctly. The appearance of the buildings in which are our homes or our places of business is a most important detail in the environment which makes our lives happy or more likely by his wife, but these are rare. The great majority show a pathetic lack of knowledge of the fundamentals of building construction and of the principles of art.

Not long ago, one of our prominent architects made some suggestions for the guidance of the owner or building contractor who wants to work out his own home building ideas. They are worth repeating, and I will give the gist of them in a few words.

Few persons, save architects, are aware that the rectangle most agreeable to the human eye is the rectangle whose sides are in proportion one to another, as three is to five. All mankind, in designing shapes, unconsciously choose the three to five proportion in preference to the two to five or the one to five, or five to five. Did you ever see a square window, or a square door, or a square table, or a square banner? Come to think about it they are all three to five. There are definite rules of harmony in shapes just as well as in tones.

But the architect does not follow rules when he composes a plan. The musician has the "tune in his head"; the architect has the design in his eye. Both are written records, the one with notes, the other with blue prints.

Thus, the architect gives the roof the right pitch, places the windows and doors in the right positions, makes the trimmings the right width, determines the kind of masonry and the height of the walls, takes into account the position of the house on the lot and the appearance of neighboring buildings.

Closely related to the sense of proportion is the sense of stability and unity. However secure a porch may be, it does not appear well unless it has visible support. I know of houses which make me nervous every time I pass them. They are securely built, yet look "top-heavy." I have in mind still other houses which violate the principle of unity because they have sections of unity appear as though they had been built afterward, giving the impression of not really being a part of the house, just an "addition." The work of an architect is not a group of walls, it is a unified structure with uniform design.

The manner in which he attempts to ornament a house betrays the amateur quicker than anything else. No ornament should be put on which does not have a meaning. Ornaments are mostly sensibly employed, when their effect is to strengthen the proportion, unity or stability, impressions which every well-designed structure must have. For instance, big pillars, though mechanically unnecessary, assure the onlooker that the weight above is supported.

Fig Coffee.
The use of foreign coffee or "fig coffee" had its birth in Austria-Hungary about half a century ago. Thence it spread in Germany and the Balkans. It has been used in France for the last ten years, especially during the war, says the Scientific American, and is found in great quantities in many countries. In the year 1908 dried figs, destined to be roasted, came mostly from the vicinity of Smyrna. Subsequently to a number of poor crops in Asia Minor the Austrian dealers gave orders to producers in the south of France and in Algeria.

Electric Time Service.
A New York state electric light and power company has devised a new electric clock system by which it can supply an electric time service to any of its customers. An inexpensive electric clock which can be connected by a flexible cord to any lighting socket is supplied, and all these clocks are automatically synchronized with an electric clock at the central station, which keeps them on the exact time. The householder can thus eliminate the labor of winding and setting his clock and is assured of the correct time at any hour.

Indians and Gold.
The California Indians, familiar with the yellow wealth of the glacial gravels long before the first white man appeared on the scene, had a tradition to the effect that somewhere in the Sierra Nevada range was a mountain of gold—an entire peak of the solid metal, thinly covered with a layer of earth, moss and herbage.

Search for the Mother Lode began as early as 1850. Enterprising miners who had no belief in the story of the golden mountain nevertheless realized that the yellow output of the stream gravels must come from somewhere, and in looking for its source they explored the Sierra in all directions. The result was the discovery of many valuable quartz mines and, in particular, of a series of rich veins of gold-bearing quartz extending through Eldorado, Calaveras and three other counties.

CAUSE OF RAILROAD WRECKS

Hours of Service Act Violated 101,242 Times During 1917, Says Chief of Safety Bureau.

Principal causes of railroad wrecks are high speed in fog and around curves, disobedience of signals, defective equipment and the weakness of the manual signal system, according to H. W. Belknap, chief of the bureau of safety of the interstate commerce commission. The hours of service act has been violated 101,242 times in 1917, the report says.

Slippery Iron Floors.

The ironwork plates of many factory floors are apt to become slippery and unsafe, and to obviate this powdered sal ammoniac is used as a corroding agent. A small quantity is mixed thoroughly with a large quantity of fine sand, and this mixture is sprinkled over the floor so that all parts are covered. The surface is damped with a watering can and left to lie over a week-end, or even overnight. The sand is then swept up and the rust coating formed by the treatment is found to last for several weeks, after which the process is repeated.

The Ideal.

Do the duty which lies nearest thee, which thou knowest to be a duty! The second duty will already have become clearer. The situation that has not its duty, the ideal, was never yet occupied by man. Yes, here in this poor, miserable, hampered, despicable actual, wherein thou even now standest, here or nowhere is the ideal; work it out therefrom; and working, believe, live, be free. For the ideal is in life, the ideal is in the ideal, too, is in itself; thy condition is but the stuff thou art to shape that same ideal out of.—Carlyle.

Biblical Recipe for Bread.
Here is a war-time recipe for bread, taken from the Bible, in the ninth verse of the fourth chapter of the book of Numbers.

It states: "Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and fitches, and put them in one vessel, and make them bread thereof."

Sin and misery always go together, but sin comes first.

CO-OPERATIVE FARMING IN MANY POWERS NECESSARY TO WIN THE BATTLE FOR LIBERTY

The Food Controllers of the United States and Canada are asking for greater food production. Scarcely 100,000,000 bushels of wheat are available to be sent to the allies overseas before the crop harvest. Upon the efforts of the United States and Canada rests the burden of supply.

Every Available Tillable Acre Must Contribute; Every Available Farmer and Farm Hand Must Assist

Western Canada has an enormous acreage to be seeded, but man power is short, and an appeal to the United States allies is for more men for seeding operation.

Canada's Wheat Production Last Year was 225,000,000 Bushels; the Demand From Canada Alone for 1918 is 400,000,000 Bushels.

To secure this she must have assistance. She has the land but needs the men. The Government of the United States wants every man who can effectively help, to do farm work this year. It wants the land in the United States developed first of course; but it also wants to help Canada. Whenever we find a son we can spare to Canada's fields after ours are supplied, we want to direct him there.

Apply to our Employment Service, and we will tell you where you can best serve the combined interest.

Western Canada's help will be required not later than April 5th. Wages to competent help, $50.00 a month and up, board and lodging.

Those who respond to this appeal will get a warm welcome, good wages, good board and find comfortable homes. They will get a rate of one cent a mile from Canadian boundary points to destination and return.

FATTY IN HIS VERY OWN FEATURE FILM

No, this is not a patient suffering from elephantiasis. This is the exaggerated, perfectly natural, unposed portrait of one of the L-KO players, who furnish the laughs twice a week for the Universal program.

theatrical line which you can think of. Perhaps Franklin H. grew too big for any stage, perhaps transportation of his great form became increasingly complicated. At any rate, he was finally persuaded into the movies, and joined the L-KO Comedy Company, where he found himself an immediate success. He says that he is five feet nine in height, and that he weighs—but you would not believe that anyway. He also declares that he is a wrestler, boxer and all-around athlete. He has been heard frequently to insist, with all the earnestness of which he is capable (and that is some earnestness, believe us), that his tremendous bulk is composed of solid muscle, and that there is no fat about him at all!

He is starred in the L-KO Comedy, "Fatty's Feature Film," which he directed himself. When you see it you will realize that however much fat there may be about his body there is absolutely no trace of it in his brain. The picture is a scream from start to finish, and a real novelty as well.

STUDIO NOTES

Rex Ingram is working with a native Chinese leading lady named Sien Fan, in a Bluebird picture called "Flowers of Doom."

A record was made the other day at Universal City, when a complete set, showing a living room, was erected for Ruth Stonehouse in two minutes and twenty seconds.

W. W. Beaudine, director of Universal-Joker comedies, says that his hobbies are his pipe and babies—in this order.

Horseback riding, skating and auto-mobility are the best-loved sports of the Bluebird star, Violet Mersereau.

Milton Anderson had to spend days taming some doves for her first Bluebird picture, directed by Lois Weber.

Harry Carey has again taken the director's authority and is at work on a new picture at Universal City.

The latest addition to the big plant of the Universal Film company at Universal City is the two-story wardrobe building. More than $18,000 worth of costumes are stored here, of all historical periods. In addition, there are large rooms devoted to the making of new dresses and the repair of old ones. This is the largest wardrobe building in the world.

Kingsley Benedict, featured in the Universal series, "The Perils of the Secret Service," which George Bronson Howard is directing from his own stories, has just signed a long-term contract.

WHOLE WHEAT OR GRAHAM BREAD.

1-1/2 C lukewarm milk; 3 T brown sugar; 1-1/4 t salt; 3 C whole wheat or graham flour; 1-1/2 yeast cake. Scald the milk, together with the sugar and salt. When lukewarm, add the yeast, mixing it first with a little of the milk. Add the flour, beat well, and let it double its volume. Beat it thoroughly, put into a pan, and let it rise. In a pan of standard size it should come nearly to the top. Bake. Makes one large loaf.

SOUR MILK CORN BREAD.

2 C corn meal; 2 C sour milk; 2 T butter; 2 T sugar; white or brown; 2 eggs; 1 t soda; 1-1/2 t salt. Mix all the dry ingredients, including the soda, together. Then add the sour milk and the eggs well beaten and butter. The bread should be baked in a shallow iron or granite pan for about 30 minutes. Buttermilk may be substituted for the sour milk, in which case the butter should be slightly increased; or sour cream may be used and the butter omitted.

GRAHAM-NUT BREAD.

2 C graham flour; 2 C white flour; 1 C sugar; 2 C milk; 1 egg; 4 t baking powder; 1 t salt; 1 C nut-meats (cut). Mix and sift flour, salt, and baking powder together; combine with milk; to which the beaten egg has been added; add sugar, then nut meats and mix thoroughly. Put in bread pans and allow to rise in a warm place for 30 minutes. Bake in a moderate oven. Sufficient to bake two loaves.

Electricity on Submarines. All submarines are operated by electricity, as obviously they could not be operated by steam, when submerged. In addition to its use for propulsion, electricity is utilized on submarines for lighting, for fans, for wireless communications and to cook all meals for the crew.

MICHIGAN RED CROSS GETS SIGNAL HONOR

State Organization Made Separate Unit By National Officers

Unusual Strength of Organization, Now at work, commands attention, at U. S. conference.

Detroit (special)—Michigan has been paid a signal compliment by the national officers of the American Red Cross. During the recent reorganization, which was country wide and in which the several states were grouped into divisions, Michigan, in recognition of the unusual strength of its organization, was left intact as an individual unit.

Michigan was the first state in the Union to complete an organization in every county. The organization is particularly symmetrical in that there is but one chapter in each county, although there may be, and are, numerous branches of the county chapters. This gives an efficient working body, which demonstrated its force during the War Fund drive last summer, when the state exceeded its quota by more than a million dollars, and is every day proving its effectiveness through the wonderfully faithful pains taking and loyal work of its thousands of women workers.

Literally tons of knitted goods, hospital garments and surgical dressings have been produced and forwarded to our soldiers and sailors. State headquarters in this city have been established in the new home of the state board in the Northern Assurance building, 110 Fort street. West, and all state and bureau officials are installed and busy at work. Every detail making for speedy and efficient handling of the numerous features of the state-committee's business has been worked out to a nicety.

The state officers who have their desks grouped about the great central headquarters room are, Sidney T. Miller, chairman; Mark T. McKee, vice chairman; Mrs. R. H. Ashbaugh, director of bureau of women's work; Mrs. L. E. Greter, director of bureau of nursing; Tracy W. McGregor, director of bureau of civilian relief; Daniel L. Quirk, Jr., director of bureau of military relief; Paul H. King, director of bureau of publicity; and Henry K. Jones, headquarters secretary.

A dollar given to the Red Cross makes you a member of the greatest charitable organization on the face of the earth—and buys a dollar's worth of aid and comfort for your son, your husband, your sweetheart or your friend who is "doing his bit" for humanity and democracy.

BRAN BREAD. 3 C bran; 1 C flour; 1 T sugar; 1 t salt; 1 t soda; 1 T melted fat; 1 beaten egg; 2 C buttermilk or sour milk. Mix bran with sifted flour, sugar, salt, and soda. Add melted fat, and beaten egg, and lastly buttermilk. 1-1/2 C chopped figs or raisins may be added before the milk. Eggs may be omitted.

MONEY AND NUT BREAD MUFFINS.

1-1/2 C honey; 1 C flour; 1-1/4 t salt; 1-1/4 t soda; 1-1/4 t salt; 2 C bran; 1 T melted butter or other fat; 1-1/2 C milk; 3-4 C English walnuts. NOTE—In all of these recipes all measurements are level, and 1 equals 2 equal teaspoons, 2 equals 4 equal tablespoons, 1 d. equals 16 drops.

POTATO SALAD. Dice four medium-sized potatoes. Separate the whites and yolks of two hard-cooked eggs. Dice the whites and mix with potatoes. Add dressing.

"Roman" Roads in the Andes. The rural mail carriers who played a part in the ancient civilization of South America had some advantages that the rural free-delivery drivers of our day lack.

For example, there was a well-paved road along the roof of the Andes from Cuzco to Quito, of which traces still remain—a road 1,500 miles long, over which runners carried messages with almost incredible speed.

Each runner covered only a few miles, then passed the message to his successor, who was waiting as runners in the modern relay races wait. And the service so maintained was in operation long before there was any postal service in Europe. The ruins in the region of that highway date back to a period 3,000 years before the Christian era, and bear an extraordinary resemblance to those of upper Egypt. How little we know about ancient America!—Youth's Companion.

Helpless Man. The ladies-god-bless-'em were talking in the humorously indignant way in which they usually tackle the topic about their husbands and other women's husbands. "John is perfectly helpless without me," said Mrs. A.

"Henry's that way, too," said Mrs. B. "I don't know what would become of him if I'd leave him for a week."

"Isn't it the truth?" sighed Mrs. C. "You'd think my husband was a child, the way I have to take care of him. Why, whenever he is mending his clothes or sewing on buttons, or even darning his socks, I always have to thread the needle for him!"

He Knows Too Much. "Why, what's the matter, Cella, dear? You look terribly despondent?" "I'm afraid George has been engaged over so many times before, and I thought I was his first and only love."

"Well, how do you know you are not?" "After he proposed last night, I told him he must never kiss me until we were married, because I didn't think it proper."

A Man From Home. A man from home! How different is his from those that grow in the grim market place. We can't say world! How boundless is his heart! How warm his honest hand and how sincere his greetings to us exiles cast to roam! How good it is to meet a man from home!

Buffalo Evening News. A man who forgot how good it is to hear a word of those we knew so long ago. From one who knows as once we used to know! It's joy to us exiles cast to roam, And happiness, God-bless the man from home!

Kicked by a Genaman. A man who travels through the southern states, tells the following: "One day there came to a New Orleans time a negro with a broken jaw. The examining physician, intent on discovering the exact nature and extent of the injury, asked numerous questions. To all of them the negro returned evasive answers. Finally he admitted that she was hit by a object."

"Was it a large object or a small object?" asked the physician. "A polley large."

"Was it a hard object or a soft object?" "Polley hard."

"Was it coming rapidly or slowly?" "Polley hard."

"Then, her patience exhausted, the negro turned to the doctor. 'To tell de truth, doc, I was jes' simply kied in de face by a genaman friend.'"

Paradise Won. Their parrot had died, and young Master Tommy, with his little sister Jennie, had just concluded the funeral service over the grave of their feathered pet.

"I s'pose Polly is in heaven now?" remarked Jennie, tearfully. "Yes," returned Tommy; "I s'pose she is."

"She's got wings, but she wouldn't be an angel up there, would she?" inquired the little maid, anxious about the bird's present status. "Oh!" cried Tommy; "she wouldn't be an angel; only people is that."

"Then what do you s'pose she is now?" persisted his sister. Tommy thought for a moment. Then the light of inspiration dawned on his beaming countenance. "I s'pose Polly is a bird of paradise now," he announced, joyfully.

Getting Rid of Colds. The easiest and quickest way to get rid of a cold is to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This preparation has been in use for many years and its value fully proven. No matter what remedy you use, however, care must be taken not to contract a second cold before you have recovered from the first one, and there is serious danger of this. A man of middle age or older should go to bed and stay in bed until fully recovered. It is better to stay in bed three days at the start than three weeks later on.

Armed Vehicles Failed. In 1874, when Holland attempted to invade France by sea she furnished the expedition corps with large numbers of armed vehicles, which were connected with the idea of arresting the rushes of the cavalry. In addition there were companies of grenadiers provided with grenades not dissimilar in principle from those of today. However, in landing on Bala-Isle they were hurled back by the Bretons and their carts and grenadiers forced into the sea.

Dreadful Cough Cured. A severe cold is often followed by a rough cough for which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven especially valuable. Mrs. F. W. Olsen, Marysville, Mo., writes: "About two years ago my little boy Jean caught a severe cold and coughed dreadfully for days. I tried a number of cough medicines but nothing did him any good until I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It relieved his cough right away and before he had finished taking one bottle he was cured. I think it is just fine for children."

Plant Life Changes. The life of plant varieties grown from seed, in their pure and original form, is very short, notes a botanist. They soon pass in slightly different forms, and the process is constantly taking place. So that in a few years a named variety is quite unlike the original, even though a direct descendant. Everything grown from one original seed is soon broken up into many different forms, and in some cases this takes in the first generation.

$100 Reward, $100. The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh medicine is taken internally, and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers of Hall's Catarrh medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Freak Cluster of Corn. E. D. Leonard of Clarendon, Va., recently exhibited a freak of nature in a cluster of ears of corn numbering about 20. While all are small and only partly developed, the kernels on each are ripe and of normal size. The cluster resembles a bunch of small bananas. All the ears grew from a single stalk.

Indigestion. Take a few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets as directed for indigestion, and you will soon forget about your stomach troubles. Try it.

Here's one Grayling man's experience. Let Geo. A. Colten, Spruce St., tell it. He says: "I have had a few attacks of kidney complaints. My back has ached terribly and has been sore. The kidney secretions have been too frequent in passage and highly colored—but Doan's Kidney Pills, which I get at Lewis' Drug Store have always cured attacks. I recommend this medicine as a good, reliable remedy."

"Shouting" Flagstones. Visitors at Washington find unique the "shouting" flagstones in the floor under the dome of the capitol building which no scientist has been able to explain. The flagstone are some forty or fifty feet apart, and when two persons are standing on them a tone in the lowest pitch will be heard distinctly. If either person steps off his particular flagstone he must shout to be understood. Mysterious acoustics of this kind are rare throughout the world.
